The Conference

- Based on the thought of researchers from Asia on the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic on Inequality in Asian countries.
- The conference will discuss the important issues of the impact of pandemic to inequality.
- G-20 presidency in the year 2022 is with Indonesia. The 17th G20 Heads of State and Government Summit will take place in 2022 on 15-16 November in Bali with the theme of recovering together recover stronger.
- This conference hopefully could draw attention of the world leaders and submit proposed policy options for tackling inequality.

SDGs Center

The conference aims to deliberate upon the following:

1. what are the implications of covid-19 on already high levels of economic and gender Inequality in the region, and what pathways lead to the increase/decrease of Inequality?
2. which public policy measures have been introduced during the pandemic response? Were those measures adequate, and have they worked?
3. What structural and systemic changes are required to tackle the region's staggering levels of Inequality and share prosperity?
4. What needs to be done to accelerate progress on SDG-10? Finally, what is the key lesson from the pandemic response?

The expected outcomes of Seminar

- The Participants understand the effects of COVID-19 on the region's high economic and gender inequality levels and the factors that could cause these levels to rise or fall.
- The Participants know which public policy measures were implemented during the pandemic response and whether those measures work.
- The Participants understand what structural and systemic reforms are necessary to address the alarming levels of Inequality in the region and spread prosperity, what should be done to quicken the SDG-10 process, and what we can learn from the pandemic response.

Enjoy the seminar and have a fruitful discussion
